INTRODUCTION

Welcome to our new 2021/22 wine list

This time last year we were reflecting on what the new decade might bring. None of us could have envisaged the challenges of 2020. Indeed, as we embark on a new year, many challenges still lie ahead of us.

Never have relationships been so important in all areas of our business, from the winery to our customers. The way in which all parties have worked together has been an inspiration and a true demonstration of why so many of us work in the trade. We are extremely grateful for your continued support.

Amid the pandemic, Brexit has required significant focus: the end of the Brexit transition period and the terms of the trade deal change the modus operandi. We are keeping a close eye on developments.

Looking forward, our aim is to continue delivering the very best wines and service you have come to expect from C&B. As always, the team is here to answer any query, big or small.

In an ever-changing environment, please follow @corneyandbarrow across our social media platforms as well as our website (www.corneyandbarrow.com) which has a myriad of information available 24/7.

Thank you again for your kind support.

CORNEY & BARROW OWN LABEL

We are lucky to work with some of the best wine producers in the world

Quality is their watchword, and it is ours too. It can be difficult to find wines of benchmark quality at an approachable price tag. That is why we created the Corney & Barrow Own Label range. Made to a secret blend, created over time with a number of top producers, these wines get true kid-glove treatment! Every single year, our buyers will shut themselves away with the winemakers for days on end in the cellars, tasting samples from hundreds of vats and barrels, selecting only the very best from the vintage. And so the wine will be subtly different in character every year, but our underlying recipe and commitment to quality remain the same.

MAISON CHAMPAGNE DELAMOTTE,
LE MESNIL-SUR-OGER

CHAMPAGNE DELAMOTTE

Delamotte is the sixth oldest Champagne house, founded in 1760. Like sister-house Champagne Salon, with whom it shares premises in the grand cru village of Le Mesnil-sur-Oger, Delamotte is a devotee of the chardonnay grape. Despite its heritage and quality, Delamotte remains a discreet name, something of an insider’s champagne ‘pour ceux qui savent’ (“for those in the know”). Impeccable vineyards and extended lees ageing yield wines of great delicacy and refinement.

CHAMPAGNE SALON

Champagne Salon has an almost mythical status in the wine world, prized for its extreme finesse, rarity, and incredible longevity. Salon is the legacy of one man Eugène-Aimé Salon, born in the late 1800s, whose picaresque life-story saw him rise from poor beginnings in rural Champagne to great wealth and the glittering social circuit of Paris. He loved champagne, and decided to create his own. Obsessed with chardonnay - in his view the only grape capable of true finesse - he planted le jardin de Salon, the now legendary chalk-rich vineyard, high in the grand cru village of Le Mesnil-sur-Oger, from which Salon is still made today. The original blanc de blancs, Salon is produced in minuscule quantities and only in exceptional vintages, a few times a decade.

AMBRIEL

Ambriel was founded in 2006 by married couple Wendy and Charles Outhwaite, who left successful careers as a QC and financier in London, to pursue their dream of making English sparkling wine. Their beautiful estate in West Sussex spans 9.5 hectares of south-facing slopes, planted to classic champagne varieties on prized greensand soils. The vineyards are run ‘in sympathy with nature’, requiring meticulous attention to detail. The Ambriel style is fragrant and distinctive, somehow unmistakably English with its refreshing crunch of cox, succulent acids, and delicate lacy texture, the result of extended lees ageing.

BREAKY BOTTOM

The tiny, legendary estate of Breaky Bottom is hidden away in a secluded dry chalk valley in the South Downs of East Sussex, just two miles from the English Channel. Founder Peter Hall discovered the run-down farm in the 1970s and spotted its viticultural potential immediately, first making still wines (highly acclaimed), then turning to traditional method sparkling wines from the champagne varieties as well as the hybrid Seyval Blanc, first planted here in 1974. At Breaky Bottom, the vines are sacrosanct. Peter spends virtually all his waking hours tending the vineyards, sheep in tow. His unwavering attention to detail is entirely necessary: he pushes harvest dates to the wire, seeking to attain ripeness levels to match naturally high acids. So the grapes must be kept in peak condition into the Autumn. Thereafter the secret is time: the wines spend up to seven years ageing on their lees, developing their renowned textural finesse and myriad complex flavours.

ETS. JEAN-PIERRE MOUEIX

The late Jean-Pierre Moueix founded Établissements Jean-Pierre Moueix in 1937 in Libourne, Bordeaux, particularly concentrating on relatively unknwn Pomerol and Saint-Émilion. In the 1950s, Jean-Pierre grew the merchanting business but also, very astutely, began to acquire properties, notably, Châteaux Trotanoy, La Grave and Latour à Pomerol and Belair, renamed as Belair-Monange. The company today headed by Chistian Moueix and his son Edouard is responsible for distributing many of the most revered wines of Saint-Émilion and Pomerol which they have driven from obscurity to the heights of worldwide demand.

ÉDOUARD MOUEIX, OWNER

TERTRE ROTEBOEUF

François Mitjavile is a man unto himself, not even conforming in his non-conformity. He turned his back on a conventional life to embrace the challenges of making fine wine. He resolutely gets on with things, in his own way, producing staggeringly good Saint-Émilion Grand Cru. Nurturing this six hectare amphitheatre of cool clay-limestone, François, aided and abetted by his wife Miloute, his son Louis and daughter Nina, produces what is now something of a cult wine, gloriously decadent, supple and complex.

DOMAINE TRAPET PÈRE & FILS

These wines have gone from strength to strength under the tenure of Jean-Louis Trapet and his team, offering wonderful purity, precision and focus. Jean-Louis effected many changes, since taking over the reins of the domaine in 1990, the most radical being the wholesale change to biodynamic viticulture. The family is acutely aware of their responsibility to past, present and future generations, where their vineyard holdings are concerned, the improvement in quality being an unexpected bonus.

OLIVIER LEFLAIVE

Olivier Leflaive's operation is surely without parallel in Burgundy, as impressive for the sheer range of wines as for their consistency and quality year on year. The house philosophy is built on respect for the vines and those who tend them. While the house continues to buy grapes from the same 120 or so small vignerons who have supplied them for years, Olivier also owns vineyards in the Côte, managed by legendary technical team. Olivier's house style combines elegance, freshness and approachability, geared for pleasure. True to appellation and cru, the wines are style classics.

DOMAINE BONNEAU
DU MARTRAY

Observing the unmistakable hill of Corton, essentially you are looking at Bonneau du Martray – one block of eleven hectares. In 2017, the Le Bault de La Morinière family – only the third set of owners in twelve centuries – sold a majority share to another great vineyard custodian, E. Stanley Kroenke (of California’s Screaming Eagle, Jonata and The Hilt). The Domaine is benefits enormously from his commitment and investment – so exciting. This unique vineyard creates wines of precision and grace.

MAISON AUVIGUE

There have been vine-growing Auvigues in the Mâconnais since the early 1600s, but Maison Auvigue, as the business is now known, was first established in 1946. The wines are the fruit of family estates in Pouilly-Fuissé and Mâcon-Solutré, supplemented with grapes from a small number of high-quality local growers, suppliers to the Auvigues for many years. In an exciting recent development, the operation has moved to beautiful new winemaking premises. The Auvigues bought an ancient deconsecrated, and delapidated, church on the village square of Fuissé and have remodelled and renovated it entirely. The purchase came with an impressive vineyard too, currently under renovation. Winemaker Céline Hirsch, mentored by Jean-Pierre Auvigue, continues to uphold the house style, wines true to their terroir, with the accent on freshness and mineral purity. Corney & Barrow White Burgundy is one of the fruits of our 25-year partnership, a special blend which we recreate together with every new vintage.

DOMAINE LABRUYÈRE

The Labruyère family have owned vineyards in Moulin-à-Vent since 1850, around the foot of the iconic windmill. Edouard Labruyère, at the helm since 2008, is determined to produce wines which are ambassadors for this great terroir. His attention to detail shows in the wines. Fragile soils dictate the vineyards are worked by hand or with a horse. Team Labruyère is usually the last to harvest their relatively small production, aiming for total, physiological as well as technical ripeness. Impressive, serious food wines, true to place but more akin to Northern Rhône or Burgundy in style.

DOMAINE DU GRAND-MOUTON

This family-run winery is situated in the heart of the Nantais countryside between the Sèvre and Maine rivers, near the Atlantic coast. The distinctive soils of gneiss, flint and clay, and brisk ocean breezes are held to impart the signature minerality of the Muscadet style. 2019 saw the arrival of new owners Julien and Laure Rossignol, who have been working intensively alongside previous owner and mentor Jean-Francois Guilbaud, to ensure a smooth transition. The Rossignols aim to uphold and build on the estate's philosphy, honouring traditional methods and sustainable principles.

DOMAINE DU NOZAY

Domaine du Nozay is a small, family-run estate in Sainte-Gemme, in the heart of Sancerre. The beautiful centuries-old manor house was a ruin when it was purchased in the late 1960s by Philippe de Benoist and his wife Marie-Hélène, who renovated the estate and planted the vineyards. Their son Cyril is now at the helm. Devoted to the Sancerre terroir and its 'natural' expression via the Sauvignon Blanc grape, Cyril has converted the domaine to organic and biodynamic methods, inspired by his uncle Aubert de Villaine of legendary Domaine de la Romanée-Conti. Cyril's Sancerres are ripe and concentrated on the palate, with the mineral complexity of the local terres blanches soils.

DOMAINE DE L'EPINE

This tiny domaine of just 3.8 hectares lies in Quincy in the Loire Valley, close in style and location to the famous appellations of Sancerre and Pouilly-Fumé. Domaine de l'Epine is run single-handedly by Elodie Vilpellet, a rising talent in the Loire wine scene. The domaine boasts the classic sand/gravel soil profile of the Quincy appellation, giving a pure, ripe style of Sauvignon Blanc. Elodie takes a sustainable approach, and is converting the vineyard to organic status. Her aim is to respect the fruit, to create wines of purity and personality, true to the appellation.

TARDIEU-LAURENT

Michel Tardieu, joined now by oenologist son Bastien, is a négociant-éleveur, buying wines according to the quality of the vineyard, in their raw, fermented state. They then look after blending and maturation. Accurate translation of terroir and vintage, fundamental to the Tardieu mind-set means intervention is minimal. To ensure top quality ingredients, Michel and Bastien build up long-term, mutually beneficial relationships with a network of producers, who own specific, quality parcels of largely old vines. World-class wines which deserve their international acclaim.

VIGNOBLES GONNET

The Gonnet family estate in Châteauneuf-du-Pape was developed in the 1950s. Its quality credentials could not be more impressive: thirty hectares of vineyards running up to Le Crau (arguably the most revered vineyard plot in the Châteauneuf-du-Pape appellation); sunny south/south-east facing slopes; soils littered with prized, heat-reflecting galets roulés (pudding stones); and low-yielding 110 year old vines. The wines have a common stylistic thread: while the region's classic baked fruit is here in spades, they display a hallmark freshness and aromatic vivacity.

PROVENCE

We are proud to represent two exceptional estates in Provence – Château La Tour de l’Evêque, in Pierrefeu-du-Var, and Château Barbeyrolles, on the Saint-Tropez peninsula.

Both estates are owned and run by Régine Sumeire, third generation wine maker, one of the first female winemakers in the region, and – equally important to note – the pioneer of the pale pink rosé that has become Provence’s signature wine.

Régine honours long-held family traditions in her deep respect for the land. The vineyards are farmed sustainably – vineyards are ploughed by horse, chemical treatments are forbidden. Both properties are certified organic, and follow biodynamic practices (Barbeyrolles is soon to be certified biodynamic). Winemaking is equally attentive, aiming to treat the grapes as gently as possible at all times to create the elegant stylistic signature of both estates. Subtly different, they share nonetheless the diaphanous pale pink colour, aromatic delicacy, gentle creamy palate texture and mineral length.

CHÂTEAU LA TOUR DE L’EVÊQUE

Château La Tour de l’Evêque is a beautiful property in Pierrefeu-du-Var, at the foot of the Maurettes hills, surrounded by forest and garrigue. Steeped in history, many centuries ago the château was the summer residence of the bishops of Toulon (the name translates as the ‘Tower of the Bishop’) and features in local legend. The estate was purchased in 1958 by Gabriel Sumeire, owner of the neighbouring Domaine de Font-Freye since 1933. Today Tour de l’Evêque is under the custodianship of his grand-daughter Régine Sumeire, aided by her nephew Pierre-François de Bernardi. The vineyards are carefully organised into separate ‘parcels’, according to exposition and soil composition, and different grape varieties matched to each plot. The vineyard’s been organic for many years, while biodynamic practices are followed wherever possible. Winemaking is equally attentive. The winery is constructed on a gravity system; grapes are pressed in whole bunches in a gentle coquard press; fermentation takes place using indigenous yeasts under careful temperature control; all wines are put through malolactic fermentation, enhancing the wines’ delicate creamy texture and conferring stability over time. Great care is taken throughout the winemaking process, to minimise use of sulphur dioxide.

CHÂTEAU BARBEYROLLES

Régine Sumeire bought a rather delapidated Château Barbeyrolles in 1977 and spent years restoring the estate. A small, beautifully-proportioned property with just 12 hectares of vineyards planted to a range of varieties, Barbeyrolles nestles beneath the village of Gassin, one of the three villages on the Saint-Tropez peninsula. A sun-trap site on ancient, shale-schist soils ideal for high quality viticulture, the estate is tempered year-round by the Mediterranean just a stone’s throw away. It was here at Barbeyrolles, in 1985, that Régine had the idea of creating a different style of rosé from the more robust, deeper-coloured rosés of the time. She experimented with the coquard press of champagne, famed for the delicacy of juices it yields. Régine’s ‘new’ rosé was quite a revelation: it emerged diaphanous in colour, with a subtlety of flavour, textural finesse and length on the palate. A close friend came up with the moniker ‘Pétale de Rose’ (‘rose petal’) to describe the wine, and the name stuck – Régine subsequently adopted it for her flagship wine at Château La Tour de l’Evêque as well. Initially derided, the pale pink wine first created by Régine Sumeire, has become the defining profile of Provence rosé today. Available on allocation and rarely found outside France, Barbeyrolles is an insider cult classic; the original Provence rosé, a pioneering style for all time.

DOMAINE TRAPET ALSACE

As Alsace is a star in ascendancy in our view, we were delighted when friends Andrée and Jean-Louis Trapet, of Gevrey-Chambertin renown, decided to take over Andrée's family's vineyards in Alsace. Generations of knowledge of these very particular terroirs and styles have benefited enormously from the biodynamic disciplines the Trapets employ in Burgundy. The wines have an enticing, almost electric purity about them – superbly versatile with challenging dishes. The Trapet sons Pierre and Louis, steeped in biodynamic disciplines have essentially taken over the reins in the Alsace domaine – an estate to watch.

WEINGUT WWE. DR. H. THANISCH, ERBEN THANISCH

This Mosel estate dates back to 1636. In the early twentieth century, Riesling from these same steep slopes of the Mosel were in extraordinarily high demand, gracing the tables of top hotels, the nobility and, indeed royalty, commanding prices higher than the top wines of Bordeaux. Across the entire estate, the Thanisch family practice sustainable farming, coaxing the very best out of mature, almost solely un-grafted vines. The wines are known for their delicate fruit, elegance, freshness and grace.

HAND-PICKING NOBLY-ROTTEN GRAPES
DESTINED FOR BARTA'S UNIQUE SWEET WINES

BARTA ESTATE

Barta is a young winery with old vineyards, based in the famous Tokaj village of Mád. Businessman Károly Barta had long dreamt of restoring local vineyards razed under Communism. From 2003, Károly bought parcels on the exceptional slope of Oreg Király (King's Hill, in English). He restored its centuries-old stone terraces, replanted long-abandoned vineyards and established a small winery. The Barta philosophy is one of custodianship and quality, and in restoring their terroir they are also looking to express its highest potential. The vineyards are farmed organically and sustainably, while the winemaking philosophy - under talented young winemaker Vivien Újvári - draws on traditional and modern techniques in pursuit of purity and character. Spanning dry styles as well as Szamorodni and Aszú, Barta's wines are a celebration of the distinctive Furmint variety.

LA TUNELLA

La Tunella is a small family winery based in the Colli Orientali del Friuli, near the Italian border with Slovenia, and benefits from a unique microclimate between the mighty Dolomites and the Adlomatic sea. The hilly countryside here is carpeted with vines grown on sunny terraces. The soils here - known locally as ‘ponca’ - are held to contribute to the distinctive textural purity and subtle flavour complexity of the local wines. La Tunella produces characterful, expressive wines, from international grapes as well as indigenous varieties found only in the region.

TENUTA DI BISERNO ESTATE

CECILIA PASQUA, GLOBAL BRAND AMBASSADOR, CECILIA BERETTA

TENUTA DI TRINORO

From the Val d'Orcia, southern Tuscany, this is an amazing property, brainchild of Andrea Franchetti, who created Trinoro, from scratch, producing trailblazing wines which immediately turned heads. The west-south-west facing vineyard is planted between 500 and 700 metres above sea level. The climate is continental, with very hot days but cool, autumnal nights. Dry, it is perfect for prolonged ripening and, yields restricted by severe pruning, this makes for astonishing richness and complexity. Picking bunch by bunch ensures optimal ripeness.

TENUTA DI BISERNO

The Antinori name resonates throughout the wine world but Marchese Lodovico Antinori is pitched at a unique frequency. Legendary, maverick, genius, headstrong – all apply – but his imagination, vision and drive create world class wines. Rings no bells? Think Ornellaia and Masseto, of old, and now, the great Biserno – all created by Lodovico. In Bibbona, coastal, western Tuscany, cooled by sea breezes, the geology here is better suited to Bordeaux varietals than the ubiquitous Sangiovese. Outstanding food wines.

CECILIA BERETTA

Cecilia Beretta is something of a jewel in the crown of the Pasqua family operation, showcasing traditional and innovative styles from notable vineyards in Valpolicella, Soave and the wider Veronese area. Created originally in the early eighties as an institute for advanced viticultural research, the operation was named after the Beretta family and its heiress Cecilia, noblewoman, artist and benefactor, who had inherited a splendid villa with extensive vineyards on the eastern side of Verona. Today, the Pasqua family continues to uphold her legacy of creativity and philanthropy, sponsoring rising talent in fields as diverse as the culinary arts, ballet and sport.

LE COLTURE

The vineyards and winery of Le Colture are found in the lush hills around the village of Santo Stefano di Valdobbiadene, the epicentre of Italy's prosecco country. The Ruggeri family has been tending vineyards here since the sixteenth century, and these days have extensive vineyard holdings in the heart of the production area. Their 'prosecchi' are made from estate-grown fruit only - crucial to maintaining quality standards. The family vineyards are planted on sought-after hillside sides including the vertiginous outcrop of 'Cartizze', prosecco's prized grand cru. Traditional methods, geared for quality and consistency, mean back-breaking work in the vineyards and attention to detail in the winemaking process. The resulting wines are refined, fragrant and subtly expressive.

PETER SISSECK, OWNER & WINEMAKER

DOMINIO DE PINGUS

Danish-born, Bordeaux-trained, Peter Sisseek believed that Ribera del Duero had the potential to produce Spain's finest wines. He sought out parcels of ancient vines, on perfectly exposed terroir, which he instinctively knew would produce something exciting, albeit in small quantities. The stage was set for the arrival of Pingus – a trailblazer amazed the world from day one. Flor de Pingus, from younger vines and separate parcels followed, then Psi, Peter's philanthropic project aimed at retaining the region's unique old vines.

ADEGAS GALEGAS

Adegas Galegas (‘the Galician winery’ in English) is located in the verdant north-west of Spain. The winery sits in a beautiful landscape, nestled in an amphitheatre of vines overlooking the river Miño on the Portuguese border. The winery was founded in 1995 by Pepe Rodriguez, a well-known viticultural expert and winemaker, known in wine circles as the ‘Father of modern Albariño’, the region’s signature grape variety. Rodriguez’ efforts to resurrect and champion local grape varieties have seen the region’s wines soar in quality and reputation, and international success has followed: these days the Albariños of the Rías Baixas DO (the region’s main appellation) can be found in wine shops and restaurants all over the world. Stylistically, the wines reflect their land, a tidal Atlantic territory with mercurial weather more akin perhaps to Cornwall or Brittany, an ongoing play of sea frets and intense sunshine. The wines are highly refreshing and gastronomic, combining vivid fruit with fresh, harmonious acids and a subtle mineral core. The flavour profile is unique in spanning the entire spectrum from fine herbs to citrus, orchard and stone fruit, depending on the provenance of the grapes and the blend.

OWNERS MARIBEL BERNARDO AND EDUARDO GOMEZ IN THEIR CELLARS

BODEGAS ZUGOBER

Bodegas Zugober is a small-scale, family winery founded in 1987 by viticulturist Eduardo Gomez Palma and winemaker Maribel Bernardo. Located in the prized Rioja Alavesa region, their excellent, south-facing vineyard sites are sheltered from the cool winds of the Sierra de Cantabria, helping produce grapes of great character and finesse. Tempranillo is king here. Gentle handling and careful barrel-ageing deliver classically structured wines, combining fresh cherry-plum fruit characters with mineral freshness.

THE LANE

One of the most exciting wine estates in Australia today, The Lane Vineyard create wines that champion the sunny exuberance of Aussie fruit, with a nod to the refined structure and texture typical of old-world classics. With vineyards planted high in the Adelaide Hills, the relatively cool climate and ancient soils are key to the style of the estate’s wines, which walk the tightrope of brightness and grace.

TRENT BURGE WALKS THROUGH THE VINES

BAROSSA BOY

Trent Burge is Barossa Boy, the sixth generation of the famous Barossa winemaking clan. From backyard to vineyard and cricket pitch, Trent grew up a country boy, tearing about the local vineyards on his bike. Trent’s deep understanding of the land plays a key role in the style of his wines. Sourcing grapes of the highest quality from specific sites, he crafts wines to be classically Barossa in structure and flavour profile, but with a lightness of touch that is resolutely modern.

ERADUS WINES

Boutique, family-owned Marlborough estate Eradus Wines have twelve hectares of vineyards, the most impressive of which are planted on undulating terraces along the Awatere river valley. Closer to the ocean than much of the Marlborough wine region, the Awatere's warm days, cool nights and dry climate are key to the luminous flavour intensity, elegant minerality and fresh acidities of Eradus' distinctive wines. The estate is run by Michiel Eradus, whose affable, easygoing demeanour belies a fierce perfectionist in pursuit of quality and balance, the Eradus mantra.

MUDDY WATER

The Muddy Water estate champions the maxim 'Hand-crafted, no compromise'. It was the first certified organic winery in Canterbury and is also run according to biodynamic principles. The Muddy Water team believe that their wines are a great expression of the region and try to interfere as little as possible in the vineyard and winery, aiming to maximise wine quality and long-term sustainability. Muddy Water is a direct translation of the Maori place name – Wai (water) Para (sediment). The Waipara wine region boasts ideal grape-growing conditions: drenched in sunlight and protected from cool sea breezes by coastal hills, its warm summers, luminous autumns and distinctive limestone soils give ripe grapes with intense flavours yet fine acidities.

ELEPHANT HILL

A leading light of the Hawke's Bay wine scene, Elephant Hill exists only by serendipity. On a trip to the region in 2001 to collect a British Racing Green Jaguar from a bodyshop in the Hawke's Bay, German businessman Roger Weiss and his wife Reydan fell in love with the local area and resolved to build a holiday home here, only to become so enamoured of the local people and wines that they decided to join in! Elephant Hill was born in 2003, and these days boasts exceptional vineyards in three distinct sub-regions, as well as a smart winery. The operation is run by a small, tight-knit team, with meticulous - some might say obsessive - attention to detail, in the vineyards and winery alike. The wine styles reflect winemaker Steve Skinner's passion for traditional French regions and their varietals: Burgundian-style chardonnay and peppery, perfumed Northern Rhône-style syrah. And there is more than a nod to Bordeaux in 'Sea' Sauvignon Blanc and icon red blend 'Hieronymus'. Expressive yet subtle, refined and precise, Elephant Hill's wines are contemporary classics, beautifully wrought with a sense of place.

MONT DU TOIT

Stephan du Toit is a highly-respected lawyer, and since 1996 he has also run the Mont du Toit estate, upholding a family legacy dating back centuries. More than 300 years ago, Stephan's French Huguenot ancestors arrived in the Western Cape and established a farm near Wellington. The estate enjoys ideal growing conditions for premium red grapes, the warm Mediterranean conditions cooled by breezes from the nearby Hawequa mountain. Mont du Toit is run by a team of local workers, trained and mentored by Stephan in all aspects of viticulture and winemaking. They follow traditional methods, tending the vines by hand, and keeping yields low. The Mont du Toit style is inspired by Bordeaux in fruit and structure, the blend of cultivars varying from year to year depending on the specific vintage conditions.

NELSON ESTATE

Nelson Estate's beautiful wines are now attracting deserved attention worldwide, but their story goes back to Alan Nelson's childhood dream of owning a wine estate. For years Alan ran a successful law practice in Cape Town, enabling him to buy the historic property in Paarl, that he renamed Nelson Estate. Here, complex granite clay soils and cooling Atlantic breezes help promote fresh and delicate flavours in the wines. Alan's son Daniel runs the commercial aspects of the estate and daughter Lisha is the winemaker. One of the brightest rising stars of South Africa's winemaking scene, last year she was also awarded the revered accolade of Cape Wine Master.

RHEBOKSKLOOF WINE ESTATE

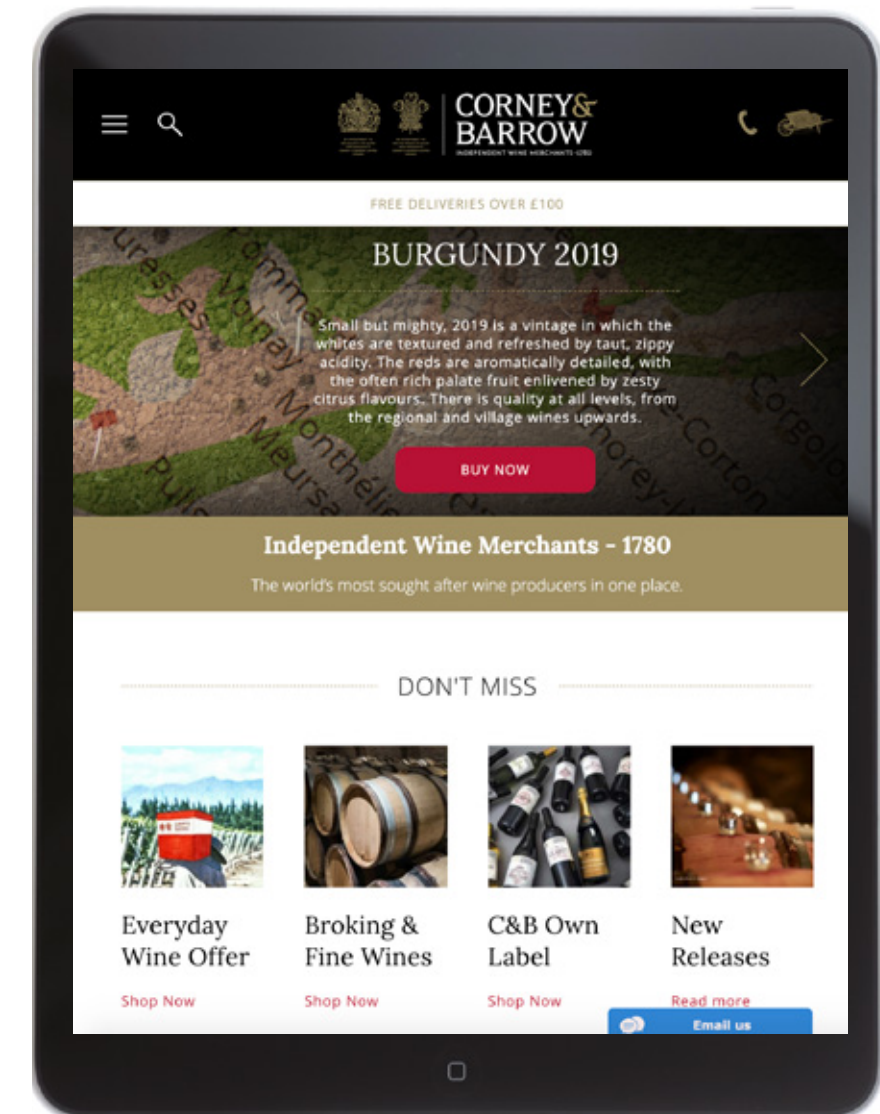

A magnificent 600-hectare property spanning two lush valleys, Rhebokskloof lies at the foot of the Paarl Mountain. Dating from 1692, this historic estate was carved up into several smaller farms in the 20th century, though recent owners have sought to reverse this. Rhebokskloof is now owned by a group of wine-passionate South Africans with a vision to restore its splendid Cape Dutch buildings and beautiful grounds. The early 2000s saw the rollout of an ambitious fourteen-year project to remodel and replant the entirety of the estate's vineyards, with a view to quality. This was matched by significant investment in the winery facilities. As the vineyards mature, senior winemaker Rolanie Lotz is working hard to achieve the team's objectives, to create wines with a sense of place that honour Rhebokskloof's unparalleled vineyard sites and long wine heritage.

THE NEW CONCRETE EGG FERMENTATION VESSELS AT CAKEBREAD CELLARS

CAKEBREAD CELLARS

Cakebread Cellars started as a small venture whose first vintage totalled just 157 cases and now comprises over 600 acres of prime vineyards. The breadth and depth of scope of Cakebread’s sites are key not only to the balance and complexity of their wines but also their potential to age gracefully. While viticultural and winemaking expertise has become more sophisticated with time, Cakebread remain constant in their commitment to family values, and to producing wines of the highest quality, to be enjoyed with friends and food.

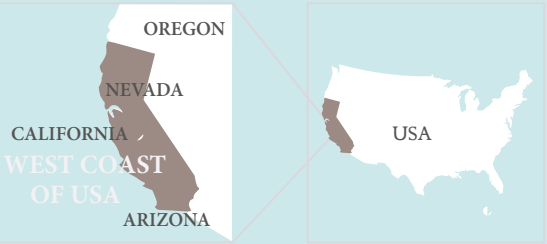

HYDE DE VILLAINE

The creation of Hyde de Villaine saw a combined viticultural history, spanning some 400 years, come to fruition after a lot of coaxing. What seemed logical the world over was resisted under the premiss that it would perhaps muddy the waters between two viticultural reputations at the highest level. Finally persuaded, the joint venture between Burgundy’s Aubert de Villaine and Californian viticulturalist Larry Hyde, as many suspected, resulted in extraordinary wines – in what way? The HdV wines combine a degree of the finesse, elegance and refinement, which most of us would associate with European wines, a classical trait, with a balance of richness and vitality afforded by the relatively cool, windy climate of the Carneros region.

CARMEL ROAD

Monterey County is well known for its glorious sandy beaches, cliff-hugging Highway 1, and picture-perfect seaside towns like Carmel. It is also home to some of California's most exciting wines. Monterey's combination of ocean mists, marine breezes, cool hillside sites and range of wine-friendly soils has become a mecca for winemakers in pursuit of finesse and minerality. At Carmel Road, Winemaker Kris Kato produces world-class wines that capture the true personality of their vineyards, offering up bright Californian fruit with 'old world' elegance.

DOMINUS ESTATE

In the late 1960s, while studying at the university of California at Davis, Christian Moueix, best known for iconic wines from Bordeaux' Right Bank, fell in love with California's Napa Valley. In 1981, he discovered this vineyard, which had provided fruit for some of the finest Napa wines of the 1940s and 1950s. In 1995, became sole owner. His goal, to produce great wine representing a unique terroir, is totally endorsed by his son Edouard. The vines are somewhat cosseted as the overriding philosophy at Dominus which is to "produce the wine in the vineyard, not in the cellar" – fabulous classical style wines.

SUSTAINABILITY

We ensure that all of our activities comply fully with relevant environmental legislation and best practice, and strive for continual improvement of our environmental management procedures with the following measures:

The Company recognises that its activities have an impact on the environment:

- Wine Buying Approach – Environmental policy/sustainability are key considerations of our buying policy. The majority of our wine producers are committed to sustainable agriculture in different ways, related to their origins, local practice and possibilities. Approaches include Organic and Biodynamic practices, 'Reasoned Viticulture' (derived from France's Lutte Raisonnée, avoiding systemic treatments but reserving the right to treat if absolutely necessary), and country or region-specific initiatives such as the Sustainability Code of the Chilean Wine Industry, France's recently-established 'Haute Valeur Environnementale' (HVE), Napa Green in California, South Africa's Integrated Production of Wine (IPW) scheme and the Sustainable Winegrowing of New Zealand programme. Such initiatives follow the principles of international wine industry environmental and sustainability policies, drawn up by global organisations such as the International Federation of Wine and Spirits (FIVS) and the International Organisation of Vine and Wine (OIV). We encourage and support all efforts taken by our producers in this regard, and ask for evidence of certification where relevant.
- Corney & Barrow, wherever possible, seeks to appoint suppliers of works and materials who are environmentally aware and share our goals regarding reducing our environmental impact. This includes our wine suppliers and our warehousing and logistics providers.
- We ensure that all activities comply fully with relevant environmental legislations and perceived best practice – in particular health & safety legislation (fire risk assessments, employee safe working environment and practices, pest control, hygiene etc).
- We commission regular independent audits to confirm that the Company's policies and procedures are appropriate and that they are being followed in practice.
- Over the last 10 years, Corney & Barrow has significantly reduced the percentage of staff with company cars and staff are required to use public transport as far as possible.
- We strive to use resources wisely and place emphasis on re-using or re-cycling materials wherever possible, including out-of-date promotional material and wine lists.

For example: toner cartridges (photocopiers, faxes, printers) are re-cycled for the benefit of the Tommy's Charity. They are collected by Anglia Forwarding Ltd who are certified by The Environment Agency under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 and re-cycled by Environmental Business Products Ltd. Glass bottles are re-cycled by Greener World. Used postage stamps are saved for the Hearing Dogs for the Deaf Charity. IT and media technology items are disposed of/re-cycled as appropriate via Secure IT Re-Cycling Ltd (which supports The World Land Trust).

- Corney & Barrow has introduced a robust email marketing strategy in order to accustom our customers to receiving offers and communication via digital communication rather than printed post. We are aiming to make digital our primary channel for advertising to minimise the impact of print related advertising.

VIÑA LAURENT

Viña Laurent is a small, boutique wine venture owned and run by French-Chilean winemaking couple Damien and Lorena Laurent. After twelve years in Bordeaux looking after Damien’s family estate, the couple decided to return to Chile to set up their own wine venture. They settled in the Maipo Valley, where they own just over two hectares of vineyards, tended meticulously. They have also developed relationships with a handful of small, independent growers in the southern Maule and Itata regions, from whom they source special parcels - such as grapes from 150-year-old País vines! The Laurents use only the healthiest fruit and minimise handling, to preserve natural freshness and fruit purity.

LA RONCIERE, IDAHUE ESTATE

La Roncière was founded in 1949, but only much later in 2017 did the brothers – José Antonio, Andres and Alejandro Orueta – conceive of Idahue Estate. This pioneering project, undertaken in awareness of climate change, was extraordinary in its ambition and execution, involving the creation of an entire estate from scrub in the remote area of Licantén, a cool, coastal sub-region of the Curicó Valley. Due to its unique microclimate and ancient metamorphic soil, Licantén has been formally recognised as a new D.O, one of only four in Chile. Its 200 hectares of vines yield fresh, beautifully-structured, high quality reds from classic French varieties.

OVERLOOKING THE VINEYARDS OF VIÑA NAHUEL IN THE COLCHAGUA VALLEY

VIÑA NAHUEL

Viña Nahuel, named after the native Andean puma, is a personal venture for Swiss-born Daniel Wiederkehr, a former financier who had always dreamed of making his own wines. In 2010, Daniel fell in love with Chile, buying six hectares in the Colchagua Valley to set up his estate, where he farms 80-year-old bush vines following organic and biodynamic methods. Wiederkehr's wines combine European classicism borne of his Swiss oenological training, with the Chilean character of his newly adopted homeland.

EDUARDO CHADWICK - FOUNDER OF VIÑA ARBOLEDA

JOSÉ IGNACIO MATURANA - FOUNDER AND WINEMAKER

FRANÇOIS MASSOC TENDING TO THE VINES

VIÑA ARBOLEDA

Viña Arboleda is the personal venture of Eduardo Chadwick, a name well-known to lovers of Chilean wine. Arboleda means 'grove of trees' and is a tribute to more than 3,500 acres of native forest that surround the estate's vineyards in the beautiful Aconcagua Valley, north of Santiago. Chadwick's vision at Arboleda is to create single vineyard wines revealing the purest expression of each unique terroir and grape variety. Elegance is the watchword here, borne of the Aconcagua Valley's diverse sites and the influences of cool mountain air and tempering breezes from the nearby Pacific.

MATURANA WINES

Like many others, José Ignacio and brother Sebastian Maturana saw their family home and vineyards destroyed by Chile's major earthquake in 2010. Forced to rebuild their business, they faced a huge decision: produce grapes in volume and sell them on to Chile's major brand-owners? Or, go it alone. Tabula rasa, they decided to make wines of their own, at a more premium level. In 2011, winemaker José travelled to Burgundy, to understand from within the approaches followed by small producers to make high-end wines. Back in Chile, he and Sebastian founded Maturana Wines, with a vision: to create wines with a sense of place, honouring Chile's viticultural and winemaking heritage. They work with old vines (70 years old minimum!) tended organically according to time-honoured viticultural practices, while their winemaking looks to ancestral techniques, such as skin contact for white grapes ('orange wines') and the use of amphorae, to complement contemporary methods.

MASSOC FRÈRES

Massoc Frères was established in 2015 by French brothers François and Jean-Paul Massoc, aiming to revive the heritage grapes of Chile's remote Maule, Itata and Bio-Bio regions. They work directly with small traditional vine growers in these areas, who have been tending the so-called 'criolla' grapes (first planted by the Spanish colonisers) for generations. 'Wines with humanity' is their adopted motto, underlining the absolute value of human input in the process of wine production, from the growers in the vineyards to the winemakers in the cellar.

BODEGA RUCA MALEN

Bodega Ruca Malen is the creation of two old friends, Frenchman Jean-Pierre Thibaud and Jacques Louis de Montalembert, a Swiss native, who in the late 1990s realised they shared a dream, to make wines of their own in Argentina. Passionate about wine and eager to create high-quality wines from the Andes that would reflect that very French notion of terroir, they combined forces and experience to create Bodega Ruca Malen, producing their first vintage in 1999. Ruca Malen's quest for excellence garners critical acclaim for wines that are rich yet freshly-flavoured within a classical structure, retaining all the while a sense of place, enshrined today in the new 'Terroir Series' label.

MENDOZA VINEYARDS

Founded in 2003 by an ambitious and dynamic international team, Mendoza Vineyards is an exciting project based in Luján de Cuyo, the heart of Mendoza's wine country. Mendoza Vineyards owns its own vineyards but has also developed close relationships with a number of local quality-minded vinegrowers, to supply them longer term. This provides access to grapes from a wide variety of sites, giving grapes with different and distinctive qualities. Meticulous in every aspect of their operation, the small team, led by chief winemaker Richard Bonvin (a name with a destiny!), produces wines with impressive regional typicity and varietal purity. The best alternative to a trip to Mendoza!

ACHAVAL FERRER - BELLA VISTA WINERY

ACHAVAL-FERRER

The ambition at Achaval Ferrer has always been decisive and bold. The aim was to produce a worldclass wine in Argentina, in high altitude Mendoza. If third party assessment is reliable, this they have achieved. The wines of Achaval-Ferrer come from excruciatingly low-yielding, high altitude sites and from ancient, un-grafted vines. The goal is simple - absolute quality, a very pure expression of Malbec, the perfect blend in Quimera, all the while ensuring vibrancy and freshness – remarkable focus.

VIÑAS QUEIROLO

In 1877, the Queirolo family set sail from Genova in Italy, bound for Peru, and settled in Lima. The family’s involvement with wine began in the 1880s when Santiago Queirolo opened the now legendary Queirolo Tavern in Lima, and started making everyday wine and also pisco, which was a huge success – Queirolo’s pisco is a household name in Peru. Fast forward to 2000, the younger generation of Queirolos took the decision to re-develop their wine operation, with a view to producing wines of international quality. On the advice of French consultants they bought land in the Ica Valley – the so-called ‘Valley of the Sun’, an oasis in the Peruvian desert, just three hours south of Lima and 60km from the Pacific. The area is blessed by year-round sunshine, a remarkable diurnal temperature range, and tempering ocean influences. The Queirolos aimed high – literally! In an engineering project of extraordinary ambition (some might say madness!), they went up into the hills, creating vineyards from nothing on vertiginous virgin slopes of ancient rock. The vines were selected carefully, specific clones from a leading French nursery. Meanwhile the winery was revamped, incorporating state-of-the-art kit, geared for quality. As the vines mature, the wines are becoming ever more exciting. The talented winemaking team, led by Luis Gomez, is helping shape a distinctive style for Peruvian wine, founded in freshness, varietal purity and a discreet old world structure. One to follow!
